LOOKOUT is a small-scale tactical unmanned ground vehicle (UGV) which is designed to quickly put visual feedback from a variety of situations in the hands of tactical officers and mission planners.

LOOKOUT is remotely piloted and provides an eyes-on capability to quickly see, assess and evaluate a situation without putting an officer in harm's way. It carries a pan and tilt color camera which can be used to inspect in, on and under a variety of structures.

The LOOKOUT robot can also be used as a static monitoring station. It can set up on a perimeter to observe events as they unfold, without putting an officer in danger.

LOOKOUT enhances the tactical officer's ability to quickly and accurately make assessments and respond to changes during a mission.
